CASEMENT IS HANGED FOR HIGH TREASON

Goes to Death Without Emotion, Declaring That He Gave Up His Life For His Country

(Special to The Herald)

London, August 3.—Declaring that he gave up his life for his country, Roger Casement was hanged for high treason in the yard of Pentonville prison today. He went to his death without emotion. At eight minutes past 2 o'clock the bell of Pentonville prison began tolling, proclaiming to those gathered outside the prison that Casement had been executed. The execution was marked by dramatic and pathetic scenes. Back of the prison, a little group of about 30

Irish men and women gathered. When the execution bell began ringing these sobbing men and women threw themselves upon their knees and began offering up prayers.

Just before he was taken to the scaffold Casement was admitted to the Roman Catholic church. The hanging of Casement wrote the final chapter in a career of humanitarian activities. The Rev. Fr. Carey, one of the priests who was with Casement in his

NEW YORK STRIKE ENDED

Garment Workers Will Resume Work After 14 Weeks of Idleness.

New York, Aug. 3.—The strike and lockout in the garment trade ended today and the workers will be back to work Monday. At noon today 18,000 workers had voted on the agreement made between the union and employers and 90 per cent favored the return to work. This ends 14 weeks of idleness. The agreement is practically the same refused by the workers several days ago.

KILLED BY HIS CHUM

Waltham Boy Falls Dead as Bullet From Revolver Enters His Body.

(Special to The Herald)
Waltham, Mass., Aug. 3.—Alfred Nolan, aged 14, was instantly killed today by his chum George Beatty, the same age, when the two tried out a .38-calibre revolver which they had found, to see how far the bullet would penetrate a telephone pole. Beatty fired the shot, aiming at the pole. It struck Nolan, who was standing a few feet away and he fell dead.

SANDFORD SEEKS AN INJUNCTION

John Sandford today, through his attorneys, Harlett & Mitchell, filed a petition to the court in which he seeks an injunction to restrain Mrs. Alice Sandford from future collection of rents and otherwise interfering with business connected with the handling of property. The petition has been placed in the hands of Judge Kivel of Dover, who will order a hearing in a few days.

DETERMINED GERMAN ATTACKS ARE REPULSED

French Still Hold Their Ground on Both Somme and Verdun Fronts.—Several German Aircraft Shot Down

(Special to The Herald)

Paris, Aug. 3.—The repulse of determined German attacks on both the Somme and the Verdun fronts was reported in the official communication of the French war office today. In the section of Verdun the French made progress on the right bank of the Meuse recapturing the outskirts of Fleury Station. Seven hundred more German prisoners were captured in the fighting on the Meuse. On the Somme the Germans delivered counter attacks and in the vicinity of Estrees, but all collapsed under the French fire. To the east of the Meuse other powerful German assaults were launched but without success. Sergeant Chalmet of the aviation corps shot down two more German aeroplanes.

TIDE ALMOST CATCHES CAR

Odd Accident to Automobile at Long Beach.

The automobile of William Johnson of Boston, a guest at the Hlaxathu hotel on Long Sands, York Beach, was nearly lost in the ocean Wednesday. Mr. Johnson was driving near the incoming tide and occasionally running it in the water up to the hubs. Suddenly the car stopped and began to sink rapidly in the sand. The driver, seeing his predicament, sent a hurry call to the Ellis garage. James Ellis responded and towed the machine ashore. At the time the car was pulled from the ocean the water had come up to the doors.

CARPENTER INJURED ON BROAD STREET

Fell From Staging and Sustains Bad Scalp Wound.

John H. Bryant of 615 Middle street employed as a carpenter on a Broad street residence fell from a staging this forenoon and sustained a bad scalp wound, besides bruises about the body. He was sent to the Portsmouth hospital where his wounds were treated by Doctors Berry and Dixon.

NEW CASES PASS 200 MARK

Infantile Paralysis on the Increase in New York.

(Special to The Herald)
New York, Aug. 3.—As scientists from all sections of the country gathered here today to help New York in its fight against infantile paralysis the number of new cases of the disease took an upward bound that passed all previous marks in the 24 hours ending at 10 a. m. today, there being 217 new cases. The deaths numbered 13. This is the first time that the number of new cases has passed the 200 mark.

Hampton Beach was crowded on Wednesday night.

The Advance Corset Styles Enrapture Our Customers

Charmingly fresh are the new fashion ideas expressed with such certainty in our display of this season's Warner's Rust-Proof corsets. So perfectly do they accord with the latest style tendencies in dress, that one would almost fancy these brilliant models to be the work not alone of corset designers, but of modistes and costume creators.

From outward fabrics of lavish beauty to inner secrets of efficient boning, the Warner Rust-Proof corsets we are showing are altogether quite miracles of style and service. Their exceptional fitting qualities foretell long wear and real economy. A score of distinctive models from $1.00 to $3.50.

COAL COMPANY TAKES ANOTHER UPWARD STEP

Whitewashes Knights of Columbus, Batting Out
Seven Hits for a Total of Nine Bases, Scoring
Six Runs

As a result of last evening's Sunset League game, the Consolidation Coal Company have taken another step up the ladder and are now holding a place in the standing above that of the Y. M. C. A. They defeated the Knights of Columbus, 6 to 0, hitting Perry for six singles and a triple, made by Harrington at his first time at bat. Harrington hit three safe ones in his three attempts and scored two of the six runs. McWilliams had an off day in the field, falling down badly on his two chances, both of them being chances for easy double plays. His errors made three of the four runs scored in the second inning a certainty.

Driscoll was pitching fine ball most of the game, holding the Knights for three scattered hits. For the Knights, Sexton, the new third baseman, played a whole of a game, completing five hard plays; all the chances he had. Moore also played well, as did Paul Bailey at first. Rutledge and Woods made the only errors charged against the C. C. C., neither being of a serious or costly nature. The team played nearer the brand of ball that they were showing the first of the season, and they took to the fans like possible "come backs."

The Game
1st Inning—Harrington tripled to left and scored on the play to first by Sexton on Rutledge's grounder. Woods out at first. Sexton to Bailey, Bailey making a fine one-hand catch of a poor throw. Able walked, stealing second. Pruetz singled through the infield to left and Able was out at the plate on a perfect throw to Sarrota by Connie Reardon. TWO HITS, NO ERRORS, ONE RUN.

2d Inning—Harrington tripled to left and scored on the play to first by Sexton on Rutledge's grounder. Woods out at first. Sexton to Bailey, Bailey making a fine one-hand catch of a poor throw. Able walked, stealing second. Pruetz singled through the infield to left and Able was out at the plate on a perfect throw to Sarrota by Connie Reardon. TWO HITS, NO ERRORS, ONE RUN.

Moore, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

McWilliams walked and stole. Sexton first to Woods. C. Reardon fanned. McWilliams going third when Rutledge lost the ball. Reardon stole second. Kelley fanned. ONE HIT, ONE ERROR, NO RUNS.

3d Inning—Collins out at first on a grounder. Sexton to Bailey. Kilpatrick walked. Gorman and Driscoll were both safe on errors by McWilliams when clean plays in each case should have been easy doubles. Harrington singled, the ball bounding over second base. Kilpatrick and Gorman scoring. Harrington going second on the throw to the plate. McWilliams playing right field. Moore playing short stop. Perry threw third to M. Reardon to hold Harrington and on Reardon's error Driscoll scored. Harrington took third on a passed ball. Rutledge grounded out at first. Sexton to Bailey, scoring. Harrington. Woods singled to left, going second as Kelley failed to make the stop. Able out on a foul fly to Sarrota. TWO HITS, FOUR ERRORS, THREE RUNS.

4th Inning—Pruetz walked, taking second on a wild pitch. Collins out on a grounder. M. Reardon to Bailey, Pruetz going third and scoring on Kilpatrick's out. Perry to Bailey. Gorman out on a foul fly to Sarrota. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, ONE RUN.

Gorman made a great running catch of Perry's hard fly to center. Bailey sent up a high fly for Pruetz. McWilliams fanned. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

AFTERNOON, IN PITCHERS' BATTLE.

Gotch of the U. S. S. Washington and O'Brien of York Beach, pitchers in yesterday afternoon's battle in their game played at York, had a royal engagement with the sailor getting slightly the better of the discussion. The game was captured by the Washington, 6 to 5, and the only long hits were made by the Washington batters. Hildwin making a homer and Toward hitting for two bases. Gotch fanned 15 men and O'Brien struck out 14. The game was played before the largest crowd of the season and was interesting from start to finish. The summary:

DRUGGIST GETS APPOINTMENT.

C. B. Brewster & Co., the progressive and popular druggists of Dover, have recently secured the agency for that famous old English product, Abbey's Effervescent Salts, which for over 50 years has been so popular on the other side of the water.

Keeping clean internally has become so generally recognized of late years as a preventative of disease and Abbey's Salts have so long been acknowledged and recognized as the leading preparation for the relief of constipation, biliousness and their attendant ills, that Brewster & Co. are to be congratulated on securing their agency here. Abbey's, by the way, is packed in new bottles, larger in size, but at the same old price.

ITINERARY OF HUGHES TO THE PACIFIC COAST

New York, Aug. 2.—Charles E. Hughes, had no important political appointment today and spent a good part of his time shopping in preparation for his western tour, beginning Saturday. Chairman Wilcox will go west with the candidate on Saturday as far as Chicago, where he will confer with Republican leaders and look over the situation in the middle west.

Mr. Hughes, on his return from the west, will probably on his trip to Maine make three speeches, two on September 7 and one on September 8. One will be made in Portland where he arrives September 7. The places for the other speeches will be decided later.

The itinerary of the trip that Hughes will make to the Pacific coast is officially announced as follows:

Leave New York Saturday evening, Aug. 5, and spend Sunday at Niagara Falls; leave there Monday, Aug. 7, for Detroit, where there will be two evening meetings.

Leave Detroit Tuesday morning, Aug. 8, for Chicago, where there will be an evening meeting; leave Chicago that night for St. Paul and Minneapolis, where two evening meetings will be held Wednesday, Aug. 9.

On Thursday, Aug. 10, a morning meeting will be held at Grand Forks, N. D., and a night meeting at Fargo, N. D., Helena, Mont., a day meeting will be held on Saturday, Aug. 12.

Sunday, Aug. 13, will be spent at Spokane, Wash., and on Monday morning, Aug. 14, an automobile trip will be taken into Idaho, where a morning address will be made at Coeur d'Alene. An evening meeting will be held at Spokane. A day meeting will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 15, at Tacoma, and an evening meeting at Seattle.

On Wednesday, Aug. 16, an evening meeting will be held in Portland, and in the early morning of Thursday, Aug. 17, departure will be made for San Francisco, where an evening meeting will be held on Aug. 18. Saturday evening, Aug. 19, departure will be made for Los Angeles, arriving there early Sunday morning, Aug. 20. Sunday will be spent at Los Angeles, where an evening meeting will be held Monday, Aug. 21.

Departure will then be made for Reno, Nevada, where an evening meeting will be held at Salt Lake City. A night meeting will be held Friday, Aug. 25, at Cheyenne; on Saturday, Aug. 26, an evening meeting will be held in Denver.

DIRECT COASTAL ROAD TO MAINE FROM FLORIDA

The following article relating to national highways in the United States is the ninth of a series appearing in The Christian Science Monitor describing the vast system of proposed government-owned trans-continental roads designed to serve directly 85 per cent of the nation's population. This article deals with the Atlantic highway.

Many automobile tourists from the southern states this season have selected the Atlantic highway as their route to New England, widely known as "America's vacation land." This highway is the easternmost of all the routes sponsored by the National Highways Association which run from the Canadian border to the extreme southern part of the United States. During much of its distance this road follows closely the Atlantic coast, assuring the traveler of comfortable journeying in the summer months. This is especially true of the route in traversing the New England states, where the vacation seeker has his choice of seashore resorts, mountain fastnesses, camp life in the forests, or the delights of rolling farmlands. The trip over the Atlantic highway takes the tourist through several of the most important cities in the country, including the national capital at Washington, D. C.; Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York city and Boston.

Its northern terminus is Calais, on the Maine border. From this city it stretches southward 2240 miles, its southern terminus being Miami, Fla. The railroad distance between these termini is 1963, so that the highway is only 277 miles longer.

The Atlantic highway serves one of the most thickly populated sections of the United States. It traverses 16 states and touches the capitals of seven states. It also passes through 92 counties and 55 county seats. There 32 counties have a population aggregating 12,170,801. The 108 adjoining counties have a population aggregating 7,201,288, making a total population of 19,375,149 directly served or adjoining this highway.

It is interesting to note that the Atlantic highway carries the tourist who travels over its complete length through two cities of a population of more than 1,000,000; through two cities of more than 500,000 population; six cities of more than 100,000; 18 municipalities of more than 25,000; 34 of more than 5000; 95 of more than 1000 and 453 of less than 1000. This makes a total of 610 cities, towns and hamlets along its route.

Sanborn on the grounds of the Association at The Weirs on the shore of Lake Winnepesaukee, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 22, 23, 24 and 25, 1916. The following program has been arranged for the encampment.

Tuesday—S. of V. and D. of V. Day

Reception of visiting comrades during the day at headquarters building by the president of the association, Charles W. Stevens, assisted by the reception committee, Henry W. Clark, W. H. Trickey, H. L. Worcester, and J. Kirkwood Craig, commander of the New Hampshire division, Sons of Veterans. The Camp-fire will be presided over by J. Kirkwood Craig, commander of New Hampshire Division, Sons of Veterans, and the president of the Daughters of Veterans, Department of New Hampshire. Addresses will be made by members of the order. Music will be furnished by the Manchester Pipe and Drum Corps. Tattoo at 10.30. Taps at 11.00.

Wednesday—G. A. R., W. R. C. and Ladies of the G. A. R. Day
Reveille at 6 a. m. Breakfast at 7 a. m. Retreat at 6 p. m. Band concert 8 to 10. Department headquarters will be established in the headquarters building of the association, where department officers will be glad to welcome all comrades. From 10 to 12 o'clock, regimental reunions and elections. Dinner at 12.30. This will be followed at 2.30 p. m. by a grand Camp-fire in the Auditorium, presided over by the department commander and the president of the Woman's Relief Corps, preceded by a concert by Rublee's band. At 7 o'clock in the Auditorium, camp fire under the direction of Camp-fire committee, preceded by a concert by Rublee's band. Tattoo at 10.30. Taps at 11.00.

Thursday—Governor's Day
Reveille at 6 a. m. Breakfast at 7 a. m. Retreat at 6 p. m. Band concert 8 to 10. Parade of the New Hampshire Veterans' Regiments and other organizations that participated in the War of the Rebellion, commanded by their own officers to receive the governor and suite and invited guests with military honors, and escort the party to dinner. The Sons of Veterans in uniform, under the command of their division officers, will act as escort to the veterans. The parade will be under the direction of General J. N. Patterson, Captain W. A. Hapenny, adjutant, who will arrange all the details and give necessary instructions to regimental and other officers, who will report to him as early as possible during the reunion. Line will be formed on Main avenue in front of the depot. Line to be announced later. Dinner at 1 o'clock p. m., at the Association Cafe. At two o'clock grand Camp-fire in the Auditorium, presided over by the president of the Association, Comrade Charles W. Stevens in honor of the invited guests. Addresses will be made by Governor Spaulding and other distinguished guests. At 7 o'clock p. m. memorial services will be held at different regimental buildings in memory of their deceased comrades. At 8 o'clock band concert followed by a band-concert in the Auditorium, under the direction of Camp-fire committee. Tattoo at 10.30. Taps at 11.00.

Friday

Reveille at 6 a. m. Breakfast at 7 a. m. At 10 o'clock business meeting of the association for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and such other business as may properly be brought before the meeting.

Note—This program is subject to change.

Comrades, Attention!

Invitations to attend the encampment have been extended to the following and they are expected to be present: Governor Roland H. Spaulding and staff; the executive council; Senators Jacob H. Gallinger and Henry F. Hollis; Congressman Cyrus A. Sully and Edward H. Wason; former Governor Henry B. Quilby of Lakeport; George H. Moses and Robert N. Upton of Concord; Charles F. McCarthy of Marlboro, Mass.; Hon. John J. Mitchell of Boston; Henry C. Streeter of Brattleboro, Vt.; John McElroy, editor of the National Tribune, Washington, D. C., and others.

The press arrangements will be under the experienced direction of Frank M. Shackford of the Associated Press. Rublee's full band of Laconia, A. E. Rublee, director, has been engaged and will furnish music for concert and military purposes.

The Manchester Pipe and Drum Corps of Manchester will be present and give the old army calls.

The Oberon Quartet of Laconia will be present and assist in the camp-fires.

The president or his representative from the reception committee will be at his room in headquarters building at all times during the reunion, to arrange for the comforts and wants of all who attend.

The check room in the headquarters building will be in charge of a competent person to care for parcels as desired.

Comrades desiring quarters in the barracks should make application to the quartermaster, L. S. Richardson, at his office in the headquarters building.

The camp will be under the command of J. M. Sanborn, camp commander, who will have under him a sufficient force to preserve order and attend to every duty; and the utmost care will be taken to have the grounds kept thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, and the health and happiness of all promoted to the utmost.

The morning and evening guns and salutes will be fired by a detachment of the First Light Battery, N. H. N. G.

A. E. Rublee will have charge as musical director of all the music during the week, and will attend to the musical part of the Camp-fire entertainments.

The grounds and buildings will be brilliantly illuminated each evening during the entertainment.

OUR SUBURB.

Our Garden Spot is always bright and pretty (Of course it's rather soggy when it rains). And only thirty minutes from the city (Of course you have to catch the proper train). We're through with Grasping Land-lords rents, and leases (Of course there's still a mortgage debt to pay). At last we know what True Domestic Peace is (Of course you can't compel a cook to stay). Our Little Home is always nice and cozy (Of course the furnace needs a lot of care). The country keeps the children fresh and rosy. (Of course the schools are only middling fair). The Country Club is glorious on Sunday (Of course it's overcrowded now and then). We see a play on Broadway every Monday (Of course we have to leave at half past ten). It's lovely having grass and trees and flowers (Of course, at times, mosquitoes are a pest). Yes, life is life out here in Rangeley Towers (Of course some people like the city best). —Arthur Gutterman in Harper's.

LESSON 1

LITTLE JOHNNY SMILES

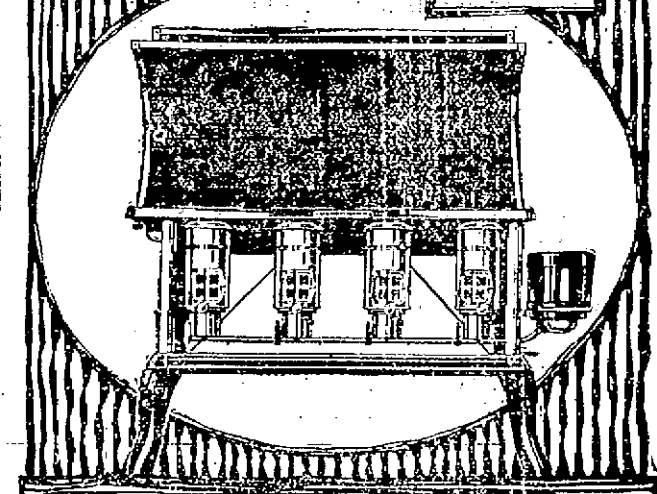

Why is little Johnny pleased?
Because he doesn't have to fill the coal-hod any more.
Is that all?

No. He doesn't have to fill the wood-box any more either, nor empty the ashes. You see, Johnny's mother has bought a New Perfection Oil Cook Stove. Instead of coal or wood, she burns Socony Kerosene Oil, and it costs her only six cents a day to cook for a family of six.

How nice for Johnny!
Look for the long blue chimney burner—that's what makes the New Perfection efficient and trouble-proof. The 1916 models have the new patented reversible glass reservoir and many other improvements. Sold in 1, 2, 3, and 4-burner sizes (by hardware, furniture and general stores) everywhere.

The Tax Rate.

There is undoubtedly nothing in the smaller cities and towns that excites more interest than the announcement of the tax rate. After the assessors have done their work the figures are set forth in the public prints for the benefit of those who are to foot the bills of the communities in which they live.

And, as usual, there is in the majority of towns and cities the complaint that taxes are too high. Sometimes this is so and sometimes it is not, but the habit of complaining of the tax rate is rather firmly fixed and the voice of protest is heard as regularly as the yearly announcement is made.

And with the habit of complaining of the tax rate is coupled in the case of too many citizens the utterly foolish and nonsensical idea that the assessors are responsible for whatever may be deemed an excess of the public burden. Do not they fix the rate? ask the grumblers. Of course they do, but how? By proportioning the amount to be raised so that every tax payer shall bear his just share of the expense of conducting the affairs and maintaining the institutions of the city or town in which he lives.

The responsibility for the tax rate rests upon those who make the appropriations. In towns this is done by the people directly, while in cities it is done by representatives of the people. And the appropriations are gauged by the demands of the people. If they demand the best of everything in the way of roads, streets, schools and other public utilities they get them; but they have to pay for them, a fact that is too often forgotten until the tax rate is announced and the bills are presented.

That is all there is to it, provided the public business is honestly conducted. The people get just what they pay for, and if their demands are large the bills must correspond. The remedy for burdensome taxation lies in the hands of those who do the grumbling. All that is necessary is to learn to count the cost in advance, and to follow the old rule of "cutting the coat according to the cloth."

It is all as simple as A B C, but it appears to be a difficult lesson to learn. It is the people and not the assessors who are responsible for the tax rate, and there is no excuse for the ignorance which leads to a different belief.

A New Jersey church has connected its pulpit by telephone with the home of an aged member who is unable to attend the services and she is now able to hear the sermons while sitting in her easy chair under her own roof. It is to be hoped, however, that this innovation will not be needlessly extended. There is enough already to keep people away from church.

The government is doing the fair thing by the National Guardsmen in every respect. Not only is it ready to allow those having dependent families to go home whenever they choose, but it will pay their fare, something which was never done before in the case of men discharged for their own pleasure or convenience.

Some cities are preparing to place pulmotors at their bathing beaches, a step that is strictly in line with common sense. The pulmotor has proved itself a life saver in many cases, and common prudence dictates that it should be within easy reach wherever there is a liability to drowning accidents.

How shocking in this day to read such a headline as the following: "Thrown over rail into stream below; Mrs. So and So severely cut." And then to have it wind up with "Horse runs away!" The average person in this year of our Lord, 1916, is not prepared for a jolt of that kind.

A New York paper aptly remarks that if the terrific explosions in New York Harbor Sunday morning could have been continued for weeks or months the people of the region would have gained some idea of what is being endured along the battle fronts in the Old World.

Notwithstanding the magnitude of the preparedness movement it is announced from New York that there is to be no let-up in the sale of munitions to the allies. But of course the tide could be quickly turned in case of need.

Is the automobile destined in time to become an air machine? An aeroplane came down in a California town the other day, struck a line of automobiles standing by the curb and sent four of them flying.

This "Bermuda high" would not be so intolerable to some if the powers in control would occasionally throw in a ball.

HUTCHINS' FAMILY REUNION

Ex-Senator John C. Hutchins Will Be the Host at North Stratford.

At North Stratford next Saturday and Sunday there will be an unusual gathering, when the ten brothers and sisters of the Hutchins family have their triennial. Five sons and five daughters were born to Lewis Smith and Marcia Allen Hutchins and all are still living. For twenty-four years the ten have met at North Stratford every three years and there never has been an absence. With their come their children and naturally the number has increased with each of the meetings. This year there will be thirty present including their wives and husbands and their children.

They will be the guests of ex-Senator John C. Hutchins as they have been at all the reunions. Several of them are at North Stratford now, those coming from long distances getting here early while those close at hand run up at the last minute. Even the senator's aspiration for the Democratic nomination for governor has had to take a back seat the last week or ten days as the affair is an elaborate one, requiring some good hard work in preparation and politics has had little of the senator's attention recently.

Talking of politics, the family is pretty well split up, however pleasant and sociable it may be on other matters. Three of the five boys are Republicans and two Democrats. One of the Republicans, Col. J. Warren Hutchins of Philadelphia is a member of Governor Brimhall's staff and a prominent member of the Union League of Philadelphia.

Only one of the women lives in a state where there is equal suffrage, Mrs. Emma Hutchins Clark of Chicago, wife of H. A. Clark, a Civil war veteran and retired police captain in Chicago.

It will be chiefly a family reunion Saturday, but on Sunday the townspeople will participate and Rev. Geo. B. Broadhead has arranged a special service at the North Stratford First Baptist church, which the Hutchins clan will attend in a body and hear a sermon based upon the fine family custom they have been carrying out for nearly a quarter of a century. There will be special music also.

The children were all born in Vermont, most of them in Wolcott. In the order of their birth they are: Mrs. M. C. Hutchins, born April 25, 1854; Mrs. Mary Hutchins, born April 25, 1856; Mrs. Mary Hutchins, born August 17, 1859; Col. J. Warren Hutchins of Philadelphia, born April 25, 1859; Mrs. Marcia Hutchins, born April 25, 1861; Mrs. M. C. Hutchins, born April 25, 1863; Mrs. M. C. Hutchins, born April 25, 1865; Mrs. M. C. CURRENT OPINION

Desire for Material Things Weakens Our Intellectual Life.

When our young people enter college we find the trouble with them is not that they have bad habits at all; not that they think badly, but that they do not think. All this is in the college simply because it is in our whole generation. It is the inevitable outcome of a life that has never known national disaster and has made material prosperity the goal of its desire.

Shall the European nations emerge from the awful conflict disciplined, re-ordinated, accustomed to the service of the state, and shall we in America be found vacillating and irresolute, lovers of ignoble comfort, desiring above all things the full dinner pail and the fat purse? Shall Europe come forth purged of selfish individualism by the tremendous contest, while we, sitting on the "bleachers" of the world, make no sacrifice and win no inner victory?

God forbid that America should ever share in the frightful war! God forbid that America should fail to share in the worldwide sacrifice! We need deep and earnest study of the issues that underlie the struggle and the ideals for which America stands.—By President W. H. J. Fausch, Brown University.

And hours told the International News Service that just before going to the scaffold, Casement said: "I am resigned and I die for Ireland." "Casement died like the brave man he was," said Rev. Fr. Carey. The death of Casement was instantaneous. It was testified at the inquest, Dr. P. H. Mander, surgeon of the prison who examined Casement's body declared that there was no evidence that the condemned man had suffered from insanity. The theory had been advanced by Sir A. Conan Doyle and others that Casement's violent anti-British plotting had been inspired by mental aberration.

Attorney Duffy who said he appeared for Casement's relatives, said he had made application to the home office asking that the body be turned over to Casement's relatives. "It is only right that they should have the body," declared Duffy. "It would be a monstrous act of indecency if the request was refused."

Although strenuous efforts had been made to gain a reprieve for Casement, the condemned man evidently entertained little hope of escaping the penalty for his crime. In his final hours Casement did considerable writing but in the meantime he did not neglect his rest. Upon being asked by one of the prison attendants if he had been able to secure and sleep, he replied that he had "slept like a top." As the tall, bearded figure of the condemned man was led to the gallows and just before the trap was sprung, Casement was asked if he desired to make a statement. The prison already with the shadow of death upon him said, "I die for my country." A few moments later the body shot downward and after a few convulsive struggles remained limp. The corpse was cut down and examined and afterwards an autopsy was conducted.

The arrest and subsequent trial of Sir Roger Casement for high treason created one of the biggest stir in British history.

An Irishman, once prominent in Dublin official life, a Knight of St. Michael and St. George, and a leader of the Irish Nationalist party, he fled to Berlin shortly after the declaration of war between Germany and England in 1914 and immediately became active in propaganda which had for its purpose the overthrow of the British rule in Ireland. Part of this he hoped to accomplish by adding the Germans to defend England. He conducted a recruiting campaign among captured Irish soldiers and succeeded in getting a few of them to enlist in German regiments to fight against their former comrades.

Roger David Casement was born in Ireland in September, 1854 of a good family in Ireland and passed his early youth in obscurely attending school. He early showed an aptitude for diplomatic service and entered the British Consular service in 1885. He was successfully consul at Lorenzo, Marques and for the Portuguese possessions of West Guinea. Afterwards he was consul at Gaboon and from 1905 to 1906 in the Congo Free State. He was consul in Santos in 1906 and was appointed consul to Hayti and San Domingo in 1907, but did not qualify. He was consul at Porto, Peru, in 1908 and 1909. From 1909 to 1913 he was consul-general of Rio de Janeiro. He was created a Knight of St. Michael and St. George in 1911. Thereafter he became the leader of the Separatist party in Ireland.

During the period in which he represented Britain in the Congo and in Peru he effectively checked many of the abuses of the rubber trade. On several occasions he risked his life to save natives from brutal treatment. For this work he was commended by the entire civilized world. He was in the U. S. in the summer of 1913 shortly before the outbreak of the war. He made speeches in many cities in favor of Irish Home Rule and assumed the role of leader in the Irish Volunteer movement.

After the beginning of the war he returned to Ireland and became active in the recruiting of the Irish Volunteers and was open in his opposition of the war. A few months later he went to Germany and began his work there. A price of $25,000 was set on his head by the British government. In April of this year, while attempting to land on the west coast of Ireland with some followers and a supply of ammunition, he was captured. It is claimed that he made the trip from Germany to Ireland in a German submarine. Then followed the Sinn Féin revolt and the fighting in Dublin.

Following the execution of Roger Casement today, Gavin Duffy, the legal representative of Casement's relatives, announced that the Home Office had refused to turn over the remains to the Casement family. Applications had been made to the Home Secretary for the body that it might be buried by the relatives. Not only was that request refused, but Mr. Duffy was also refused permission to witness the hanging.

PEOPLES' OPINION

A Voice From Kittery
Kittery, Me., Aug. 4.

Editor: Through the columns of your paper I wish to call the attention of the people of Kittery to the condition of the lawn surrounding the drinking fountain on Navy Yard Station Square and why the lawn is so neglected.

As we know the fountain was donated to the town and one of the requirements of the donor was that it be kept clean and the lawn cared for properly during the summer season. It is safe to say that the town government has been the least concerned in the matter and the work of beautifying the lawn has been done as an act of pride by individuals, some of them women.

On a recent date a citizen of the town offered his services in caring for the lawn and made a proposition to the selectmen in which he agreed to look after the lawn providing his work would go toward the payment of his taxes. His offer, I understand, was not even considered and he was told by some of the town officials that if the people living in the vicinity of the square did not like the looks of the lawn, they could dig up the weeds and clean off the hay crop themselves. It is hard to believe that the old

EXPECTS AGREEMENT OF LEASED LINES WITHIN WEEK

Summer Wallace, Director of the Concord and Montreal Railroad, Predicts Harmony for Boston & Maine Reorganization.

Rochester, N. H., Aug. 3.—Summer Wallace, a director of the Concord and Montreal railroad, in an interview said: "That in another week a complete agreement between the leased lines and the Boston and Maine railroad would be reached in the reorganization plan."

"President Kimball of the Concord and Montreal and Richard Olney of the Connecticut River road have been holding out for better terms for the leased lines, and the Concord and Montreal directors have such confidence in President Kimball that they naturally defer to him."

"The Concord and Montreal stockholders have been getting their 7 per cent dividends right along," he continued, laughingly, "and the argument to let well enough alone sounded pretty good, but the Boston and Maine notes have now been extended eight times, the major part of them and, of course, they can't be extended forever."

"Mr. Kimball has been holding out for a plan by which the Concord and Montreal stockholders would consent to scaling down their guaranteed dividend from 7 per cent to 6 per cent, and Mr. Olney for scaling down the Connecticut River dividend from 10 per cent to eight per cent, the leases to be continued and the dividends guaranteed. This would have the Boston and Maine $150,000 a year. Under this plan no new legislation in this state would be needed and we would not have to take new Boston and Maine stock in exchange for our present holdings."

"I have been of the opinion from the first that the road would have to be reorganized or go into the hands of a receiver, and the reorganization plan appeared to me as reasonable and likely to be adopted eventually."

"Of course the New Haven's holding of 51 per cent of the Boston and Maine stock will be called on for an assessment of something like $5,000,000, but it has seemed to me that Mr. Morgan for the sake of his father's interrupted plans would see to it that this proposition went through."

"Concord and Montreal stock is holding fairly steady, this for stock at 100 cannot be called."

Governor Spaulding remarked that the urgent request for Boston and Maine reorganization legislation, so insistent last year that he was impetioned to call a special session of the legislature, seems to have completely vanished, so confident now are the Boston and Maine interests that it is no longer needed.

I would suggest that a public subscription be taken each year for the care of the spot and let the town officials continue their sleep.

MOVE TO PRESERVE SAND DUNES

Gray, Ind., Aug. 3.—With the support of many noted scientists and business men of Indiana and Illinois, the movement of Gray people to conserve the sand dune region for a national park is making headway. The one available tract left in Indiana along the shores of Lake Michigan for a sand dune park is near Gray. All others have been used as factory sites or the sand has been hauled away and sold. Not only can it be a beauty spot but many botanists declare it should be preserved for scientific purposes if for no other reason.

FORMER TEACHER AT KITTERY IN BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

Mrs. Blanche Whitcomb Roberts of Lewiston, a former teacher in the schools of Kittery has brought a breach of promise suit against Lewis S. Bean of Presque Isle.

She took up her work in Kittery shortly after her graduation from Bates college.

She then married J. E. Roberts, also a Bates graduate and for four years they lived in Presque Isle. In 1903 Mrs. Roberts obtained a divorce and returned to Lewiston soon after being appointed assistant librarian at the college. On the resignation of Miss Caroline Woodman, Mrs. Roberts was made librarian.

Her engagement to Mr. Bean was announced early in the summer when Mrs. Roberts resigned her position at the college. The marriage was to take place in October. Late in June Mrs. Roberts went to Presque Isle, where she was a guest of Mr. Bean's niece, and while there the engagement was abruptly broken.

SOME GOOD THINGS AHEAD.

Owing to an unforeseen combination of circumstances the great detective story, "The Maelstrom," by ex-inspector Frost of Scotland Yard, will not begin in the Magazine Section of the New York World until Sept. 3. On Aug. 6, however, will be published a poem by the late James Whitcomb Riley entitled "An Old Sweetheart of Mine," and fully illustrated. In the issue of Aug. 13 will begin a series of three stories by Richard Harding Davis, the first being "The Frame Up." Order your Sunday World early.

"The Boston and Maine stockholders would have to raise new money sufficient to pay off the floating indebtedness," continued Mr. Wallace, "but the Boston and Maine people refuse to accede to this, and I understand we are about ready to accede to a plan for complete reorganization, accepting new Boston and Maine first preferred 7 per cent stock, with a first lien on earnings, and cumulative after three years, the Boston and Maine to pay off the floating indebtedness by an assessment."

OLD CHESHIRE FAVORS KEYES FOR GOVERNOR

Foremost Men of Republican Party Declare for His Candidacy.

Keene, Aug. 3.—After an auto tour of sixty miles which took in nearly a third of Cheshire county, including some of the largest communities, it was plainly apparent that this section of the state is solidly in favor of the candidacy of Hon. Henry W. Keyes for the Republican nomination for governor.

In the towns visited, among them Marlborough, Dublin, Jaffrey and Hildridge, the absolute lack of sentiment in favor of the opposing candidate, and in many instances the positively hostile attitude of the voters at the mention of his name, stood out as surprising features.

Before leaving Manchester for the purpose of covering Mr. Keyes primary tour, the writer had been told by some of the supporters of Reservoir W. Pillsbury that while they conceded that his opponent would show strength in the northern sections of New Hampshire, there was "nothing to it" but Pillsbury in the southern counties.

Cheshire county can hardly be classed as one of the northern sections, and after hearing the comments of some of its foremost Republican citizens yesterday, I am convinced that unless some of the other so-called "southern counties" come strongly to the aid of Mr. Pillsbury, he will be defeated in the coming primary by a larger margin than in any of his previous efforts to become the state standard bearer of the Republican party.

This tour on the part of Mr. Keyes comes after his opponent had already covered this county with John J. Donahue of Manchester. John formerly lived in Keene and spent several days recently taking the Londonerly candidate about the county. Bright and early yesterday morning Mr. Keyes started out afresh to investigate his standing in this city. Leaving the Cheshire house accompanied by Col. George Kossman, he visited more than 50 prominent men of Keene. They included not only Republicans of long and unquestioned party standing, but a number who are known to have adopted pronounced Bull Moose leanings next preceding the eventful national convention in 1912.

In practically every instance Mr. Keyes received their assurance that they will support him. This is mentioned particularly to show that the Republican party in Cheshire county, at least, is again united and what is more to the point, is united in favor of Keyes for governor.

MABEL TRASK WINS $10,000 IN FAST RACE

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 3.—Mabel Trask, driven by Walter Cox, won the $10,000 Paper Mills Purse yesterday afternoon for 2.08 trotters, setting a mark of 2.03 3-4 for the event and incidentally trotting the fastest mile of the present grand circuit season. The famed daughter of Peter the Great, fully sustained her reputation for speed and racing stamens by disposing of a representative field of trotters quite as successfully as she had previously done at Cleveland and Detroit. She was forced to her second mile by St. Frisco driven by "Top" Geers. In fact Geers again divided honors with the crowd. Every time he appeared he was greeted with rounds of applause.

There were eight starters in the Paper Mills trot. The Cox mare was favorite and won in four straight heats, the purse being divided on that basis. Her winnings were $1,500. St.

Frisco and Guy Nella carried the battle to her in each heat. Mabel won the first heat in 2.07 3-4. But the second heat Geers forced Cox to drive his best to win in 2.03 3-4, establishing a record for the event and beating the previous best mark of 2.05 1-4 made by Peter Scott in 1915. The third and fourth miles were in 2.05 1-4, Cox showing in front by a safe margin.

WOODBURY ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY

Seeks the Democratic Nomination for Congress in the First District.

Hon. Gordon Woodbury of Bedford will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the First district. His name has been often mentioned in connection with the nomination, but it was not until today that it was learned with certainty that he would be in the field.

To a Herald man, Mr. Woodbury said:

"There is perhaps no Congressional district in this country where the typical political and industrial problems of America present themselves in more interesting forms than in the first New Hampshire district. They challenge our attention on every hand, and many of them are being met and solved. They should all be approached and dealt with in the modern spirit of helpfulness and progress.

"It is a proper ambition for any man to aspire to do his part in the work. By inheritance and conviction I believe in the Democratic party and am proud of what it has done in the past three years. I believe it can and will do still greater things in the future.

"At the suggestion of many too partial friends I have decided to offer myself as its candidate for Congress from this district and shall file my name as such in the coming primary election."

KITTERY

The death of Mr. Albert Mason occurred at 6 o'clock this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur O. Goodwin, Dame street, from Bright's disease. He was aged 72 years. Although he has been in failing health for the past two years, Mr. Mason was able to be dressed and about the house on Wednesday, and the end came suddenly. Besides the one daughter, he is survived by several grandchildren. He lived in Maine during his early years and later went to Colorado where he passed the greater part of his life. PREPAREDNESS TALKS AT RELIGIOUS CONFERENCES

Isles of Shoals, N. H., Aug. 1.—More than two hundred guests were assembled on Star Island during the first annual summer conference of the Free Religious Association of America, which was conducted from July 29 to Aug. 1. In this group were business men, labor leaders, ministers of various denominations, lawyers, publicists, journalists, authors, men of affairs, social workers, college instructors and students, many being of wide repute. The general subject of the conference was "Spiritual Preparedness, National and International," taken up from various points of view. In the conference a sermon Sunday morning on "The International Mind," Rev. John Haynes Holmes of New York struck the first note of the conference. Mr. Holmes is well known as a minister, author and public speaker, radical in his views and fearless in their expression. He pleaded the ideals cherished at the beginning of the war. Certain groups of great scholars were organized to consider the basic problems of mankind, women were associated in international organizations which came together to consider the problems of the home and humanity, great federations of labor forces were formed into international bodies which enabled men to clasp hands across the boundary lines of states, and the great forces of the organized peace societies of the earth were pointing out the possibilities of arbitration. All of these, at the outbreak of the war, disappeared in a single night. The wise men became the advocates of kings, the women gave themselves to the preparation of warfare and sent their sons and husbands to die wretchedly on the battlefield; the labor organizations, which might have been expected to stand like a bulwark against hatred, were among the first to disintegrate and the peace societies lapsed into the silence of indifference, or became the loyal supporters of kings. We realized then that few grasped the meaning of the international mind, but that the only religion which made the heart beat quicker was not Judaism, Christianity, or International peace and good will. It was nationalism, regard for one's native land.

As To Scientific Religion
A platform meeting on the three supreme religious issues of our times was held Sunday evening. Rev. William L. Lawrence, at the head of the head of the department of religious education discussed the first phase of the question, "Scientific Religion." He said that science and religion grow from the same root. As long as man's reaction upon his environment is purely as an intellect seeking to prove everything, the result is science. When he reacts not only with his intellect, but with all of him, it is religion. They are so alike that they should always be friends. We shall find characteristic marks by which we shall know scientific religion; by the presence of the scientific spirit, the open and candid mind, by the man who would rather have truth than a preconceived dogma; by him who would rather be right than consistent. We shall find that scientific religion has power. It takes hold of one. Why should there not be warmth, light, fire in religion—is there anything else which should more stir the soul? Scientific religion finds selfishness, prejudice and sensuality and should have power to cast these out and fill the soul with something else. There are modern forms of power which are so anxious to have everything go with a zip and bliff that they shatter the delicate machines even though the heavier ones may keep going. This condition calls for another electricity which knows how to make the connection with the real power-house. What is needed in religious education is what is least wasteful and most productive.

The Supreme Religious Issue
The second part of the question was taken up by W. T. Colyer of England, and was under the name of "Industrial Democracy." Mr. Colyer said that this must in every country be the supreme religious issue, because man cannot be religious unless they have had something to eat. Our present organization of industry requires that there be an unemployed reserve to use when needed and to reject when industry is slack. This alone would make it impossible to cultivate any religious life. When a man feels really hungry he never feels anything else. The present industrial system is based on war. There is war between one captain of industry and another, a constant effort to beat one another instead of to serve the community. Mr. Colyer holds that it is impossible to live some sort of lives religiously, those engaged in liquor or white slave traffic, those drawing large profits from the manufacture of death-dealing implements, and those jelling up profits for any particular competition in industry. He described industrial conditions in England, showing that the unity of interests is plainly disregarded, and said that instead of the interests of capital and labor being identical, they are irreconcilably opposed and as long as there is the system of exploitation, there can be little definite advance. He feels that industrial democracy is one of the supreme needs of the times.

The third division of the subject, "International Peace," was taken up by Arthur L. Weatherly, Lincoln, Nebraska. He began his address by going over those world conditions apparently existing just before the present war broke out, which would seem to indicate that the spirit of democracy and internationalism, of brotherhood and good will was at last coming into its own. The peace movement was gathering force with the advent of every new invention that stimulated trade and industry and the great captains of industry were beginning to see that peace and commerce were twins born of good will. Among financiers, bankers, and manufacturers peace was seriously discussed. It was no longer the property of dreamers alone. Mr. Weatherly discussed briefly the conditions in China, Japan, India and in western countries, which indicated the heavenly influence of the ideal of brotherhood. He paid a tribute to the Woman's Peace Conference which survived the storm when every other international organization was acknowledging defeat.

Peace Through the Realm of Ideas
A "Programme for National Mutual Self Expression" was propounded by Gerald Stanley Lee, author of several books dealing with the problems now uppermost in the public mind. In this lecture he insisted that a nation is wrong which does not permit a man to enlist for that in which he can do his best; in making provision for the enlistment of the man who is able to strike at the enemy physically, and none for the man who has special skill and training in aiming at and striking home to the mind of man.

Mr. Lee proposed that our War Department be divided into two sections, the "preparedness with" and the "preparedness against." There is the power of men acting together and the power of men against each other. Let us try both, and see which division of the War Department is relied on most at the end of a few years. A new face would be put on our national affairs if this department of the Government should spend a great deal of money in educating man's minds. He believes that if an army of newspaper men were really mobilized for the purpose of getting Mexico to listen to America, and America to listen to Mexico, there could be no better defence. The Government can use hundreds of railway engines or other material things but it has no use for the type of man who could help through the rapid transit of ideas. Ideas are explosive and should be used to blast out a new world and clear the way of rocks, for the coming of the international mind.

A New Job for the War Department
The power of advertising to attract attention to an idea, as demonstrated in the business world, was used to illustrate the same value in settling such questions as the world is now involved in. If men's habits and desires can be changed in how they will live, why can not a change be brought about in what they believe. This country has done plenty of advertising in Mexico and it is the advertising of American human nature which has caused them to desire to fight us. The War Department should advertise the real ideals of America and this would change their disposition about war. As a the department is organized to put out fires which have been started, so the War Department was organized to put out fires which have been started and not to cause them.

What is needed is men of action with radical ideas about war to take the attitude of aggression. If men would fight for peace, as Roosevelt fights for what he believes in, something would be accomplished. We should place the world with the truth, for men would believe if they were confronted by it. The spiritual column to idealism is progressive insistence back of the advertising of the world.

The Law of Action and Reaction
An address by Roger W. Babson, president of Babson's Statistical Organization and of the Society for the Elimination of Economic Causes of the War on the subject, "Why Not Base Our Solution of Industrial and International Problems on Natural Law?" also provoked much discussion. He said that the scientist of whatever sort, the mechanic, the economist, the theologian and even Jesus in his teachings, have as the basis of their lines of endeavor the fundamental law of equal reaction. This law is, that for every act, word and thought there is a reaction upon the person, class or nation from which it goes forth, and the reaction is equal to and of the same character as the law itself. We can help ourselves only by helping others; selling is a reaction from action upon the person, class or nation from which it goes forth, and the reaction is equal to and of the same character as the law itself. We can help ourselves only by helping others; selling is a reaction from buying; profit is a reaction from service, and the safety and success of each person come only by extending greater security and opportunity to all persons.

Labor's Great Mistake.
Labor is also disregarding the law of reaction and is trying to succeed by handclapping capital. Brains and capital are almost wholly responsible for the improved condition of the masses, and they must realize that it is this which counts, and not hours of labor. Labor is making a great mistake in objecting to scientific management and the modern move toward greater efficiency. Both interests must form a partnership and recognize that each is the other's most valuable asset. Both are working today at only about twenty per cent efficiency.

Mr. Babson said that the present conflict of nations is also a result of ignoring the same law of equal reaction. Nations are trying to build themselves up by pulling their competitors down. Even military preparedness simply reacts in making the other nations prepare. To ultimately benefit our own nation, a policy must help others. The slogan of the true internationalist is "cooperation." His solution of the problem in the industrial world is through profit-sharing and giving to capital and labor a joint voice in determining how profits shall be divided between the different parties. In international affairs the solution is a world cooperative federation, not an international court alone but an organization bearing the same relation to each national Government as our Federal Government bears toward the separate states, and having legislative, executive and judicial departments.

The Case for Material Preparedness
Mr. Holmes made a driving appeal for "Spiritual Preparedness; National and International" at the Tuesday morning meeting. Mr. Holmes at the outset stated that he wished to be perfectly fair with preparedness advocates and would take it for granted that they were perfectly honest. Behind the movement for material preparedness are several things: First, there is the feeling that the United States is insecure. This is the primary consideration and the thing which has reached the majority of hearts. In the time of insecurity when race feelings have been so completely liberated, many think we should prepare in the only way up to now in which we have learned to prepare. Behind this movement for preparedness is also devotion to this extraordinary document, the Monroe Doctrine, a feeling that America would be disgraced if it were not maintained. We have given a pledge and promise which we must keep and the only way to do so is to have an army and navy. A third argument is that we must have a large army and navy to protect our citizens in foreign lands. What are treaties worth, if there is no arm ready to strike if they are violated? Lastly, and the most important argument behind the preparedness movement, and one which, in Mr. Holmes' opinion, is the strongest at work is that the only way to maintain America's place in the industrial world is through her army and navy. As has been said by someone believing in this argument "The army and navy are the insurance the nation has placed on its foreign trade." This is not confessed openly and is an argument which would not appeal to the American mind.

The Only Real Security
Having stated these arguments Mr. Holmes proceeded to consider them one by one, and point out their weaknesses. Taking up the argument about security, he said that other nations would interpret every boat we acquired as a menace. A programme of disarmament is, he believes, the only real security. The relations of Canada with the United States during the past hundred years is a story of disputes and disagreements on boundary lines and trade. It was the defenceless frontier dividing us which was our security from war. The Monroe Doctrine was propounded when conditions were different.

A Resolution for Mr. Wilson
Before the adjournment of the conference the following business resolution was passed:
"The fearful waste of war, in the end all must help to pay, the further weakening of Europe must be harmful to the whole world, civilized and uncivilized. No one of the intelligent nations can ask for peace without danger of being thought willing to accept a peace humiliating to itself and dangerous to the higher interests of mankind."
"Any nation that regards the efforts of a neutral nation to end the war as an unfriendly act proves that it desires not so much a just and lasting peace as unfair advantage to itself. What over the feelings of the belligerent nations now the individual, or nation, or group of nations that succeed in re-establishing peace would soon have the deep and lasting gratitude of all the nations involved."
"Wherefore, we, the members of the Free Religious Association of America in conference assembled, ask you, President Wilson, to seriously consider if this be not an opportune time to call a conference of the neutral nations to try to re-establish peace."

CONFERENCES AT GREENACRE CLOSE AUG. 12

BOSTON MEN PROMINENT AMONG THE LECTURERS AT THESE RELIGIOUS GATHERINGS

Ellis, Me., Aug. 2.—For the twenty-third season the Green Acce conferences are under way. During their week according to the announcement of the managers, for the "Furtherance of universal peace, investigation of reality, brotherhood, tolerance, sympathy to all mankind, the cultivation of a better understanding between the nations of the world, the elimination of dogma and superstitions, the illumination of the hearts with the light of truth, mutual assistance and cooperation, social service, the study of the fundamental principles of all the religions and their comparative coordination." Eight sessions have been held in the first three days of the conferences. In the afternoon and Fellowship House. The conferences close on Aug. 12.

Illustrated lectures are in order this week at 8 p. m. daily except Saturday. Professor Frederick Finch Strong, Boston, is the lecturer tonight, tomorrow and Friday evening, on "Peace and Matter in the Universe," "Consciousness and Intelligence in the Unseen World," and "Superior Powers latent in the Human Organism," respectively. A course on "Evolution vs. Involution," by Sufia Kianey, Boston, will be concluded tomorrow. This began with "His- torical Crises of the Race Man," on Monday, following with "Man's Soul," Tuesday. The last lecture is on "Soul Motion," tomorrow at 4 p. m.

Lecturers of the first three days were Dr. Charles Rosenthal, Boston, Sunday, on "The Great Teachers," Monday and Tuesday, on "Wonders," and on "N-Itax," and Rev. George H. Dodson, St. Louis, Mo., Tuesday on "Psychology of Religions." Those of the first two were illustrated. An informal conference will be held on Friday, at 4 p. m., at the times, on the subject of "The Bahai Principles," by C. Mason Remey.

Among the speakers of the second week of the conferences is Rev. Frank

A. Powell, Braintree. He will give a divided address on "Development of Spiritual Consciousness" on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 4 p. m. The week opens with a devotional service on Sunday at 10:30 a. m., followed by an address at 1:30 p. m., on "Demonstration of Identity and Inspiration—The World," by Albert H. Vail, Urbana, Ill. Mr. Vail speaks on Tuesday at 10 a. m. on "The New Spiritual Day" and again on Friday, with Mountford Mills, New York, at a conference on "Religion Must be the Cause of Unity Amongst Mankind."

Aug. 2 and 3, Thursday and Friday at 4 p. m., Professor P. H. Newell of the University of Illinois will give illustrated lectures on "Home Making in the Arid West." Another illustrated lecture will be given on Thursday, E. C. Gieseler speaking on "The Quality of the National Soul" at four o'clock.

Various social events intervene to relieve the concentration upon the religious aspect of the conferences. Weekly musicals are held, the first this afternoon at 4:30 and the second next Wednesday at 7 p. m. A dance is the evening event of each week. The musical on Friday is by Mrs. Genevieve Stacey, 15 Adams on the drama, assisted by Helen McGowan, soprano. The next musical is by Frederick William Turner of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York.

AT HEDDING

Fifty-Fourth Annual Session of the Hedding Camp Meeting.

The fifty-fourth annual session of the Hedding Camp Meeting will be held on the grounds at Hedding, N. H., August 20 to 27, 1916. A program of exceeding attraction and interest has been prepared including the following speakers: Rev. Milton S. Reed, D. D., of Rochester, N. Y., Evangelist for the week; Rev. John Powell of Portland, Me., D. D. of Boston, Mass.; Rev. W. F. Sheridan, D. D., of Chicago, Ill., general secretary of the Plymouth League; Rev. J. M. Grace of Manchester; Rev. M. M. Anderson of Salem Depot; Miss May V. Granger, deaconess and other speakers and workers from the New Hampshire conference. The music will be in charge of Mrs. M. S. Reed of Rochester and an orchestra of several pieces will assist.

ALCOHOL CHAT.

A dealer recently told me: "Why should I carry your Alcohol when my customers don't know about it, and it is more expensive than what I can carry? I can get along with cheaper goods."

We are in a newspaper space for the purpose of notifying you that the best and purest Alcohol comes in sealed bottles, each bottle bearing across the cork the signature of the firm name, Chester H. Graves & Sons. If your dealer won't get it for you, let us know, and we will see that your wants are satisfied, although we don't sell at retail, but will refer you to a dealer in your city where you can buy it. C. H. Graves & Sons.

FRANCE HONORS AMERICANS DOING AMBULANCE WORK

Paris, Aug. 2.—Six Americans, now acting as automobile ambulance drivers at the front, and two sections of the American field ambulance corps operating in the Verdun section, were signally honored by the French army today.

The six individuals were cited in the orders of the day and awarded the "Croix de Guerre." They are Brooks Leonard Edwards, Philadelphia; James Miken Spomerle, Gloucester, Mass.; Thomas Potter, New York City; Everett Jackson, Colorado Springs; Walter Whelan, Yonkers, N. Y.; and John Clark,ushing, L. I.

BIG CROWDS AT HAMPTON BEACH

The Portsmouth Electric Railroad had a heavy business last evening, carrying large numbers from the city to Hampton Beach. Six special cars, heavily loaded, were sent out at 7:45. This was occupied by the past officers of Constitution Circle, Lady Foresters. In addition to the specialty, every regular car for the beach carried passengers which taxed their capacity. It was one of the busiest nights Hampton has seen this season.

NOT THE ONLY ONE

There Are Other Portsmouth People Similarly Situated

Can there be any stronger proof offered than the evidence of Portsmouth residents? After you have read the following, quietly answer the question: Leslie Whitehouse, 33 Maplewood avenue, Portsmouth, says: "I was annoyed by spells for some time by a catch coming just over my kidneys. At times I felt so bad that I could hardly move about. There was a heavy, dull, throbbing ache across the small of my back. The kidney secretions were profuse, highly colored and contained sediment like brick dust. A couple of boxes of Dean's Kidney Pills, procured at Phillips' Pharmacy, checked this disorder and up to the present time, I have felt no return of it." (Statement given June 27, 1911.)

LASTING BENEFIT

On October 20, 1915, Mr. Whitehouse said: "Dean's Kidney Pills removed kidney disorders in my case so that I haven't had to use them, but once in four years, I gladly confirm my past recommendation." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Dean's Kidney Pills—the name that Mr. Whitehouse has twice publicly recommended. Foster-McMillan Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Canner fishermen have been making considerable money this summer. One time these fish were caught as much for pleasure as for eating.

Plenty of water for the Bremen if she wishes to make Portsmouth harbor, which cannot be said of the lumber watching for her arrival.

The open air service held at Hampton Beach on Wednesday evening by the local Salvation Army Corps proved popular and attracted much attention.

The practice made of late in throwing lobster shells on the shores of the South pond, near Jenkins avenue should be stopped as the stench arising from the same is not at all pleasant to people who have to visit that section.

On Wednesday evening, two automobiles, one containing a Newburyport party and the other a local party were in collision at the junction of Sagamore and Wentworth House roads. The thick growth of shrubbery at the corner hid the drivers of both machines until they were so close that a collision could not be averted. The machine owned by the local party was quite badly damaged.

DIED IN BOSTON

Edward Keating, son of the late Richard and Mary Keating of this city, died in Boston on Wednesday following a long illness. Deceased was 47 years of age and the only surviving member of the Keating family. He had been employed at the Mosley Hutton Manufacturing Company since the plant was established, and was a man well known and liked by his fellow workmen.

The body will be brought to the home of Mrs. Katherine Ryan of Wellington street. Funeral services will be held at the Church of the Immaculate Conception Friday morning at 8.30.

MISS KIMBALL PRESIDED.

At meeting of the executive board of the New Hampshire Suffrage League was held at the state headquarters on North Main street, Concord, on Tuesday. The meeting was presided over by the president, Miss Martha S. Kimball of Portsmouth and the other members present included: Mrs. Susan C. Bancroft and Miss Harriett L. Huntress of Concord, Mrs. B. A. Perkins of Farmington and Miss Josephine McQuestion of Nashua.

WILL BE A BIG SOCIETY EVENT

Prominent People to Act as Patronesses; Pantomime Will Be Repeated.

The pantomime and garden party for the benefit of the Navy Relief Association will take place at 8.30 p. m., Aug. 9, in the grounds of the Commandant's residence at the navy yard, Portsmouth. The pantomime will be repeated the following afternoon, for the benefit of such as will not be able to be present at the first performance.

The following ladies have consented to act as patronesses:
Mrs. John Kendrick Bangs, Ogunquit; Mrs. Charles S. Barney, Little Bear's Head; Mrs. Samuel Barrett, New Castle; Mrs. John Cadwalader, York Harbor; Mrs. Arthur A. Carey, Little Harbor; Mrs. Frederick B. Potter, Portsmouth; Mrs. James K. Cogswell, Portsmouth; Mrs. J. Templeman Coudridge, Little Harbor; Mrs. William T. Gardener, Miss Thaxter
A Page, Master J. Huey
Mignonette, Miss Priscilla Heflinger
Nuns and Nymphs.

Preparations are being made for a large attendance, and the event will undoubtedly rank as the principal society event of the season. Many of the leading summer visitors at Rye, York, New Castle, Kittery, Portland, and even as far away as Ogunquit have announced their intention of being present.

NOTES FROM THE PLAYGROUNDS

That the Portsmouth playground stands for the broadest training for the benefit of youth was demonstrated this week when Dr. Roger began her class in first aid to the injured.

A large group of older boys and girls have been organized, and lectures are to take place twice a week. There will be thorough instruction in anatomy and hygiene as well as practical demonstrations in bandaging and the treatment of all accidents. Dr. Roger has given her services in this work in the sincere belief that every person should know how to act in an emergency, and there is every indication that her endeavors will be well rewarded. The next class is to be held on Friday morning at 9.30, after which it will continue every Monday and Thursday. All persons interested are very welcome to attend.

Fourteen boys enjoyed a hike on Friday to Sea Point, which was chosen as the best spot for swimming, sports, games and a general outing. The day was a great success. In every way. Next Friday morning there will be a hare and hound chase, starting at 10 o'clock, when the hares will leave at a slow pace, crossing the fields and woods, marking their trail meanwhile, and five minutes later will be followed by the blood-thirsty hounds. The chase will end before noon.

Under the supervision of no less than 200 youngsters, who are burning with the anticipation of their first plunge, the swimming pool is rapidly progressing.

THE HERALD HEARS

That 600 people took in the excursion to Hampton Beach on Wednesday night.

That Eddie Cooney has taken a position as clerk at the National Hotel.

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED

Judge Kivel Renders Decision in Hobbs-Pender Controversy.

Judge John Kivel of the superior court has granted the petition brought by J. Harold Hobbs of this city against John Pender forbidding Mr. Pender from interfering with the retention by Mr. Hobbs of any of the agencies represented on July 1, 1916, by the John Pender Insurance Co., and from soliciting the removal of any policy written by the agency prior to July 1, 1916.

The complete text of Judge Kivel's decision is as follows:

"Upon hearing the parties and their proofs, it is ordered that the said John Pender, his agents, servants, aides and abettors be strictly enjoined and commanded not to interfere with the retention of the said Hobbs of any of the agencies represented on July 1, 1916, by the said John Pender Insurance Company and not to solicit the renewal of any policy or policies which have been written prior to July 1, 1916, by the said agency, until the end of the next session of said court unless this injunction shall be sooner modified or dissolved by said court or some justice thereof."

OPENING OF THE NEW RUTLEDGE LAUNDRY.

An event that will be of the utmost interest to the people of this city and vicinity who are particular about appearance in correct apparel will be the opening of the new "Rutledge Laundry and Cleansing and Dyeing House."

After July there will be an opportunity, never locally obtainable before, of securing perfect work in the above lines. Heretofore particular people have patronized out-of-town establishments for the work desired. It will now be brought to their doors.

The new concern is to guarantee, without reservation, work that will be of the very highest character. The latest machines and inventions for the work have been installed at a great expense and with great care and deliberation, the manager-to-be of the establishment having spent the entire spring in supervising the work. The personality in charge is to be that of Mr. C. E. Connor, who for the past twenty-seven years has been working in the largest laundries in the east as manager and foreman and also has had a successful business of his own which was destroyed by fire. For the past four years he has been doing work as "expert" at Lewards' at Watertown, Mass., the largest laundries, dyers, and cleansers in America.

In addition Mr. Connor is a thorough business man and a graduate with the highest honors in his class from the American School of Business, while a young man. He is a family man, and his family has taken up permanent residence with him in this city.

The writer having had an opportunity for inspecting the new plant and having met Mr. Connor and his associates, credits that the people of this city will be surprised and delighted at the opportunity that will be presented them to get high grade work and courteous treatment at this new establishment at 221 State Street.

The annual reunion of the Locke family will be held at the Town Hall, Rye on Wednesday, August 23 and the committee of arrangements is busy making an attractive program.
